Garin Wong named Vice President, Consulting Services

elite | studio e is pleased to announce that Garin Wong has been promoted to Vice President, Consulting Services. In this role, Garin will continue to lead and train our foodservice consulting team, collaborate with architects and other project stakeholders, and develop strategies to further increase this division of the company.

"I'm thrilled to announce Garin's promotion and am excited about the vision he will bring to this role and future projects," said Ivan J. Weiss, President & COO.

Since joining the company in 2017, Garin has been instrumental in assisting with developing many of elite | studio e's consulting standards and methods. "His passion for learning and keeping up-to-date with the latest trends in foodservice equipment and design is something our entire company has benefited from," said Weiss.

With nearly 20 years of experience and education in construction and project management, including interiors, flooring, mechanical and foodservice, Garin's background and understanding ensures that all designs consider the challenges and circumstances unique to every project. During his career, Garin has had the opportunity to collaborate on projects across the country, including BMW sites in Greer, SC, and Columbus, OH; Yale University in New Haven, CT; and Napa State Hospital in Napa, CA.

Garin earned his Bachelor of Science in hospitality management from San Francisco State University and his Associate of Science in Culinary Arts and Hospitality from the City College of San Francisco. He was also presented with the City College of San Francisco Award of Achievement Restaurant Operations.
